

The PS250 should be allowed without a foot brake because there is no clutch to operate and a left handle brake control is easier to control than a foot brake. This is a no-brainer in my opinion.